四、文意選填 (20%)

Student orientations are events held at the beginning of the school year in colleges and universities. Their purpose is to greet new students. Students are given information about their courses and daily campus life as well. In addition, students can participate in many fun activities, such as music performances, sports, and markets as a positive way to start off the year.

Senior students will guide new students around the campus to make them feel comfortable. New students are also guided through the various events held over the course of the week. Freshmen are encouraged to engage in many different activities, such as singing, sports, and other games. These activities help students make friends and know more about one another.

In the past, it was common for student orientations that include "hazing," which is the practice of using rude words and dangerous interaction to welcome new blood. In the United States, it is most commonly seen in college groups, such as fraternities, but can still occur on orientation days. For instance, organizers have forced freshmen to engage in "challenging" activities. Nowadays, hazing is not allowed to happen in most schools around the world.

Student orientations are a great way to communicate with new students about the 30 of college life. While historically, orientation week has been a troubling time for freshmen, it provides a very fun and friendly environment now.

心得

原來用聯想法寫文意填充,可以讓我比較容易找到正確該填入的單字,複習時也可以比較輕鬆,在寫閱讀時,我學習到把句子切成一塊一塊可以方便理解,也可以比較有耐心的把文章看完,我也學習到如何讓英聽進步的方法,就是在聽英聽時,可以一邊在心裡跟著默念,一邊把句子抄下來,這會讓我聽英聽時更順利,所以我會努力繼續加強我的英文聽力能力,讓我在聽英文時能快速理解文章想表達的意思。接下來我也會努力學習英文,讓自己不再逃避,並且可以輕鬆地面對任何的英文考試,不再害怕。
